

Headline life expectancy figures can mislead

Number of years people can expect to live from age 65 on average, by age in 2014 www.longlifepensions.com. Bars are cohort life expectancies from ONS Principal Projections for England, 2014 and are compared to headline numbers which are period life expectancies from same source data, as quoted by PHE. See text for explanation.